

GETTING AN AGENT OR MANAGER

Practical tips for actors at every level. Agents and Managers can't help you unless you have certain skills and resources in place first.

- Be great at self-taping at home or know where to get them done
- Have great reel footage. They can't help you without it
- Have professionally done headshots that represent you
- Have headshots and reel on IMDB, Actors Access and Casting Networks
- Have a scene prepared that shows off your type
- Have comedy and drama monologues prepared
- Know what shows you're right for and what work you want to target
- Have a sense of how casting directors, writers and producers see you
- Be familiar with current TV shows and films
- Have a professional website
